The Huxley Menagerie ...

Dear Parents,

What a WILD week this week- most literally... started the week on Monday rescuing some sad looking bees by giving them sugar solution. Much to the children's delight they recovered and flew off. Then Tuesday we had a bat flying around the school hall and on Wednesday, one of our neighbours called to say their peacock had flew over the school fence. We searched and searched but couldn't find it -I am pleased to say that that evening it returned home and I was sent a wonderful picture of him. Obviously it must have had some fun in our woods before returning to the comfort of The Glamping Pig (where he lives!) Then on Thursday I went to shut my blinds in my office during a conference call and was hit in the face by a huge moth! What a funny week!

Thank you to all who attended the RSE coffee morning- I think that was the biggest turnout for coffee morning so far, so thank you! Please do look at our curriculum pages and PSHE/RSE tab for all of the materials shared plus guidance and resources from the Church of England and as always please do ask if you have any further questions.

Next week will be a busy one... As it has been a short term with so much to fit in we will just be having our Easter worship on Tuesday morning after drop off- this way parents are more than welcome to join us should they wish to but don't have to. It will only be 9-9.30 with coffee afterwards until 10am should you wish to stay.

Then on Wednesday we will be having a colourful day! For this terms 'Care in the Community Project' we will be doing a small fundraiser to help support National Autistic Society during Autism Acceptance Week. The children can come in all things bright and colourful- colourful hair, clothes, shoes...the brighter the better! On the day there will be sweet cones and glo-sticks for sale to help raise funds and we have also set up a Just Giving page (link below) If you are able to donate towards this great cause we would be ever so grateful-

Please read on....

On Thursday we have our Spring Parents Consultation Afternoon. You should all have appointments now but if not please contact the office to arrange. Please come through the intervention room (side) door for Oaks appointments and wait at the back door to be called in for Acorns appointments. PE club is on after school until 4pm should you need your child to attend this.

Safeguarding notice- Please be careful with the front gate when you come through – can you ensure that it shut tight behind you especially when it is windy. Please do not hold the gate open for any delivery drivers etc- As staff, we need to see them on our entry cameras and check their identity before allowing them on the premises- I am sure you understand that we just need to ensure the safety of all children whilst they are in our care.

Friday- please note for those who are in on Friday, we finish at 2pm

And finally...

Baby News!

I have the great pleasure of sharing some lovely news with you. Mrs Dickens is expecting her second child later this year! It was all a very big surprise but what a wonderful one it was too! She is positively blooming and is very excited at the prospect of becoming a mum again and giving her youngest, Taylor, a sibling to play with! I am sure you will pass on your congratulations to her when you see her next week. She is still with us for a while yet and we will share further details around the plans for her maternity cover in due course.

Have a wonderful weekend

Mrs Gourley
