Exciting times ahead...

Dear Parents,

It has been great to see everyone back and all settled into school life.

We have had a very busy week of visitors for both this year and prospective visitors for Reception next year, which has been fantastic. Your children have been very welcoming and always chat away to our visitors! They could do my job for me! One child said to a visitor- 'you really should come here- it is the best school ever!' I did say to the visitors that I didn't pay them to say it (£5 in the post to that child!)

We have also welcomed some new faces and families to the school this year and it was lovely to see so many of you at our first coffee morning of the year too to welcome them.

Our next coffee morning is on 3rd October- this will have a curriculum and attendance focus and also Showbie support workshop too for those who need it. It would be great to see you all there too. Showbie passwords for new pupils should be processed this week ready for that workshop so keep an eye on your emails.

We also have our Come Learn with Me sessions starting on 27th- the first being an English focus. Class teachers will be in contact this week with more information and we will stagger these so that you are able to go to both classes if you have siblings. For those of you who are new to the school, this is just a chance for you to come and sit and take part in a 'live' teaching session so you can see what we do on a day to day basis.

This week, our Ethos group and a few other children and staff have been helping me put together a new Christian Values and school ethos video. They were great. Lots of confidence demonstrated and they were naturals in front of the camera. Whereas my part had to be redone about 10 times as I had the giggles! I was outside of school and cars were parking up next to the temporary traffic lights and just staring at me- so it was quite distracting but very funny! A huge well done to these children. The video will be posted on our website homepage and Rev. Rhodes will be sharing this with members of our parish too.

Please keep an eye on your emails over this coming week as we have a few extra letters/correspondence coming mid-week too this week.

Many thanks for a wonderful start of term and excellence attendance
