Schools out...

Well what a term it has been!

I have loved every minute with the children this term, they are an absolute credit to you all.

This week we have celebrated the end of our topic 'Step back in time' looking at the history of Huxley. We dressed up and re-enacted different photos that we saw in our archive and stories that we had heard from our visitors. Some of us sat at an old school table and others pretended to have lunch on their knees in the cloakroom like our visitors used to when they were at Huxley. The teachers pretended to be as strict as we were told the staff used to be, much to the amusement of the children. It didn't take long until gowns were off, wigs were removed and high heels replaced with trainers and we were back to our normal nurturing selves!

We also celebrated harvest. We had a little service in the hall with Rev Laura Rhodes. The children sang songs, read a poem, re-enacted the story of the little red hen and read out some prayers before breaking and sharing the Harvest Loaf. Thanks so much for all of your donations towards our harvest collection.

We also had our final Huxley High FiveRs assembly of the term and an unbelievable amount of badges were handed out. Clearly demonstrating how hard the children have worked this past week.

Christmas cards!

Yes, Christmas, I'm sorry! The PTA have sent through a Christmas card fundraising idea. On the 9th November I will have all the children in the hall from 2pm with Miss Jen and Mrs Warhurst to do art whilst parents evening starts- we will design a Christmas card and send home the order form should you wish for this to be made into cards or other stationery.

Buckets

Lots of children have been talking about how they can fill their friend's buckets when they return to school. I look forward to seeing these in action and bringing lots of joy to people.

I wish you all a happy and healthy half term. Enjoy quality family time, I know I will.

Take care and we will see you on the 2nd (remember INSET is on the 1st)

Have a lovely weekend
Take care
