Winds of change...

Dear Parents

What a blustery day we have had today! I hope you are all safe and well.

The end of another busy and productive term. With regards to Thursday, I must send my apologies, due to interviews taking place, the reading session had to be moved. This will now take place on Thursday 3rd March and I would appreciate if you could let us know if you are hoping to attend by contacting admin@huxleyprimary.cheshire.sch.uk.

This ties in really well with World Book Day so it will have a real reading theme to the day. Please remember to send in your 'masked reader' videos if you have done one and the children can come in dressed up in something 'book themed' that day.

I would like to thank and praise our mini governors for doing a fantastic job in taking part in the interview process. The feedback from the first round of candidates was so complimentary about our children. The outcomes of these interviews will be shared with you in due course when the process has been completed.

Our field is becoming extremely muddy but our children are still having so much fun out there! Can I please ask that children bring in either a 'puddle suit' or waterproof trousers or just a change of clothes in case they fall over? Spare socks too are useful as we don't want the children to be sat with wet cold socks on in class. We have been using some of the school PE kits but many of these have not been returned to us. If you have had to borrow some of the school kits, if you could return them we would be extremely grateful.

So far, I haven't been told of many children who want to do Huxley's Got talent. If your child is interested in sharing their talent- be it art, dancing, singing or even ventriloquism then please let us know as I would love this event to take place.

Showbie- we have had so many of you using Showbie recently, it is lovely to see. If you haven't been able to access it please speak to your class teachers and they can help start you up. It is lovely for the children to do 'showbie show' and share their home learning and activities.

Have a wonderful half term, take care of yourselves in this wild weather and we will see you all on the 28th (full timers) or 1st March (flexis)

Many thanks

Mrs Gourley
