Sleepy days

Dear Parents

As the summer seems to be drifting away and the autumn breeze creeps in, we all start to feel sleepy... especially when Mrs Gourley throws in a PJ day! But it was all in a good cause and lots of fun too! On Wednesday we came into school in PJs to help support the charity Children's Hospital Pyjamas. They collect pyjamas to give to children who find themselves in hospitals or in children's hospices at Christmas time. This was our first Care in the Community event this year and it was so successful. A huge thanks to all of our parents who kindly donated a pair of pyjamas. We had 25 pairs on the day but then a huge donation came in the following day from one of our parents too- so thank you all. I will give you the final number collected at the end of the month as I have reached out to our wider community as well to see if they are able to support this good cause too. Thanks again.

Thanks also to the parents that were able to come along to the Showbie workshop on Wednesday. I really appreciated your time and so glad you even got to be part of Huxley High Fives at the end of it. If you were unable to attend I will be doing another one again. Your child should have brought home the paperwork that was given out at that meeting called Collaborative learning- this shares with you a bit about how Showbie will work this year. We have already had a flurry of activity on there since the meeting so that has been wonderful to see. Today I have also posted your child's purple mash passwords into the ICT folders on their individual pages. In each folder you will see examples of planning or resources that we are using in school and also activities that you may want to extend, supplement or replicate at home. This is for all students not just flexi children. It is also useful should your child be absent for whatever reason but well enough to access work- they can follow what we are doing at school.

A reminder also about our curriculum pages on our website – these hold the overviews and weekly cycle of lessons for each class.

Open day- we are holding an open day for prospective parents for Reception 2023 places. This will be held on October 11th. A short video advertisement will be going on Facebook this weekend so please do share this widely in your groups and communities. Thank you for your ongoing support.

Many thanks

Mrs Gourley
